

FARM BUREAU MEETING

SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE RASMUSSEN TO BE PRESENT.

First Visit of Secretary Rasmussen to Gettysburg to be Marked by Address to Farmers.

The annual meeting of the Adams County Farm Bureau to be held on Thursday, Jan. 5, in the Court House will be of interest to every farmer in Adams county. The program for this year, although not entirely complete, proves to be very interesting in every respect.

The business session, which will be held in the forenoon, will continue and will consist of a discussion by the farmers of various problems of vital importance.

At noon there will be a joint luncheon with the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce at the Hoffman Hotel. Hon. Fred Rasmussen has quite a wide experience in agricultural matters and will have something to say that will be of interest to all and worthwhile hearing. This will be Mr. Rasmussen's first visit to Adams county to meet with the farmers. This will be a good opportunity to meet with a man who is acquainted with agriculture on a wide scale. It will be necessary to make reservations for this luncheon in order that arrangements may be made to accommodate all who wish to attend. Reservations may be made by calling the Farm Bureau Office.

After the luncheon and address by the Secretary of Agriculture, the program will be continued in the Court House at which time Dr. H. H. Havner of State College will talk on Beef Cattle Feeding. Dr. Havner is probably the best authority on Livestock in the State. Mr. H. D. Monroe of the Poultry Extension Department, of State College, will talk on Poultry, how to manage and feed the flock for the highest production at the lowest possible cost.

Property Sales.

Abraham Roth, of Abbottstown, sold his farm at the east end of that town to Cleason Straley, Farmers, for $15,000. Mr. Roth and family who now reside on their farm near Menches Mills, will again become residents of Abbottstown, removing into their property on Centre Square in the spring.

The Littlestown Improvement Co. bought three lots belonging to Harry G. Dutta and two lots belonging to Joseph Groce, located on east side of Crouse Park, Littlestown, on which ground was broken Wednesday of last week for the erection of four new six-room dwellings which will be for sale or rent.

N. M. Berkheimer, of Abbottstown, sold last week his property in Abbottstown to Elmer Myers of East Berlin, for $3,000. It is reported that Mr. Myers will, when he gets possession in the spring, enlarge the store room and conduct a large general store.

Leasing Land to Drill for Oil.

Again it is proposed to try to find oil in the Orrtanna section. S. E. Haupt, general manager of the Annie Laurie Oil and Gas Co. of Maryland, which has drilled 700 feet at Thurmont, has gone through the Orrtanna region and has met a number of land owners, who have expressed a willingness to execute leases for the prospecting for oil on the usual royalty of one-eighth of the product. Leases are being executed now and assurances are given that drilling operations will begin within 90 days. Luther Baltzley, Nelson Sharetts, George C. Strong and Edward Strassbaugh are the committee in charge of execution of leases. It is likely 2,000 acres or more will be leased. The company taking the same assert that they are prepared to go down 3,000 feet or more.

Saved House From Fire.

Timely discovery of fire by Mrs. Ammon Bupp, a neighbor, in the new house being constructed by John C. Myers, in New Oxford, saved the structure from destruction by fire last week. A brisk wind was blowing at the time and had the blaze got headway a serious fire in New Oxford might have resulted. Jack Miller, Harry Weikert and Leo Noel were quickly summoned and succeeded in extinguishing the blaze with a few buckets of water. Plasterers had left several boards lying on a pipeless furnace register and with the draught turned on, the wood ignited. The fire had communicated to the floor about the register when discovered. Entrance was effected by breaking a window.

Adams County Hens.

According to Secretary of Agriculture Rasmussen reports the Pennsylvania hens in 1921 added $34,000,000 to the wealth of the farmers of the State. Though there are 65 counties in the State, Adams county gave about one-fortieth of the total. In the order of eggs produced Adams county came seventh, the order being Lancaster, York, Berks, Chester, Montgomery, Bucks, Adams. The total product of Adams was 2,190,172 dozen, at average price of 40 cents, while average in estate was 45 cents and the total value was $872,068.80.

Tunnel Turnpike at Bittingers's.

An interesting engineering project is being carried on by the Bethlehem Mine Corporations at their limestone quarries at Bittingers. Thirty men working in day and night shifts under the general supervision of C. R. Orndorff, are engaged in boring a tunnel through solid rock beneath the State Highway, formerly the Carlisle pike, from the quarries on the west side of the road to the company holdings on the other side, where another quarry will be operated. Crushing will be done on the lower side. When completed the tunnel will be 28 feet high and 18 feet wide and will be 140 feet in length. It runs at a depth of 38 feet below the surface of the road to the top of the excavation. The work was started Nov. 15 and at the present rate of progress it is expected to have the underground passage ready for the business of transporting stone from one side to the other by Feb. 1st. A track will be laid for running cars in other parts of the mines. As the tunnel runs through solid rock it is mainly a question of drilling and blasting. Two rounds are made every 24 hours. Each round consists of 45 holes drilled to a depth of 4 feet to each blasting. Four holes are first blown out in the center, and then the remainder set off. The top heading or preliminary tunneling with a radius of nine feet has been carried through for a distance of 116 feet at the present time from the starting point on the lower side. The bottom will be taken up afterwards.

1921 Apple Crop in Pennsylvania.

This was a lean fruit year in the Keystone State. The freezes on the nights of April 28 and 29 and May 10 did severe damage and as a result the total crop of apples only approximated 12 per cent or less than one-eighth of a normal crop.

The total crop, revised to the census basis, according to information gathered and compiled by the Bureau of Statistics, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, was estimated at 1,766,000 bushels compared with 16,453,600 bushels last year and 5,512,800 bushels in 1919. While the crop this year is less than one-eighth of last year's production, yet the value of the crop this year is nearly one-third of last year's value.

The average price per bushel this year was $2.32, while last year it was only 82 cents.

Adams county leads every county in the State in apple crop, the total number of bushels being 107,505 and the value $247,399.50 and far exceeds returns from not only all nearby counties but also all counties in the State having commercial orchards.

Community Fair in 1922.

A community agriculture fair with no mercenary side, will be held next fall by the townships of Franklin, Butler, and Menallen; and the boroughs of Biglerville, Arendtsville and Bendersville. The place has not yet been decided upon. All classes of farm products, livestock, fancy work, and pastries will be exhibited, and experts from State College will be provided as judges. The exhibits of farm machinery will be free from commercialism and will be solely for educational purposes. The project has the support of the farm bureau which was represented at the first meeting.

These officers were named at a meeting: M. E. Knouse, Brysona; president; Charles Hershey, Franklin; and Roy Raffensperger, Butler; vice presidents; Arthur E. Rice, Biglerville; secretary; F. E. Griest, Menallen; assistant secretary; E. D. Heiges, Biglerville; treasurer; executive committee, G. W. Koser, Biglerville; C. Arthur Griest, Butler; P. S. Orner, Arendtsville; Arthur Roberts, Franklin; John Wilson, Menallen; J. C. Bucher, Bendersville. These officials are representative of the financial, fruit growing and farmer interests of the upper end of the county.

Wandered Away and Found Dead.

Emil Foth, of Philadelphia, aged 77 years, who has been living with his son Max Foth, on Stevens street, Gettysburg, early on Tuesday wandered away from home and the family becoming alarmed sent word to various towns asking to be on the lookout for the man. The State Police were notified of his disappearance and search was made for him but to no purpose. The first information received was on Wednesday morning when word came from Two Taverns that a man answering his description was given a ride from Two Taverns to Littlestown the evening before. Soon followed the news that the body was found along Piney Creek at the edge of Littlestown. The body was found by a boy examining his muskrat traps along the stream. He was lying on the bank with his face in the water and one arm was partly in the water. It is believed he either got down to take a drink and was overcome, or that he stumbled and fell into position in which he was found. Mr. Foth had been living with his son in Gettysburg for the past three months and had been enjoying his usual health but seldom left the house and was unacquainted with the roads leading out of town. The body was sent to Philadelphia where interment was made. He leaves a wife, living in Philadelphia; three sons and a daughter, Max, of Gettysburg; Charles, Paul and Mrs. Walter Davenport, of Philadelphia.

Ring Out, Wild Bells

Ring out, wild bells, to the wild sky,
The flying cloud, the frosty light;
The year is dying in the night;
Ring out, wild bells, and let him die.
Ring out the old, ring in the new,
Ring happy bells, across the snow;
The year is going, let him go;
Ring out the false, ring in the true.
Ring out the grief that saps the mind,
For those that here we see no more;
Ring out the feud of rich and poor;
Ring in redress to all mankind.
Ring out a slowly dying cause,
And ancient forms of party strife;
Ring in the nobler forms of life,
With sweeter manners, purer laws.
Ring out false pride in place and blood,
The civic slander and the spite;
Ring in the love of truth and right,
Ring in the common love of good.
Ring out old shapes of foul disease,
Ring out the narrowing lust of gold;
Ring out the thousand wars of old,
Ring in the thousand years of peace.

Mrs. Barbara Catherine Curlin died Wednesday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Anna O. Hotz, Hanover. Death came as the result of a stroke of paralysis suffered last Friday, which affected her entire body. Her age was 81 years, 3 months and 13 days. Mrs. Hotz had been watching her mother carefully through the evening, but tired out with the work and the attention she was compelled to show her for the past week, laid down for a time. When she awoke she found her mother dead. She was a daughter of the late John and Barbara Elizabeth Eck, and formerly resided near Emmitsburg. For the past 30 years she has been residing with her daughter in Hanover. Surviving her are Mrs. Hotz, her only child, two brothers, Thomas J. Eck, of Philadelphia, and Daniel Eck, of Fairfield.

Mary Loretta Martin, a daughter born early last Friday morning to Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Martin, of Littlestown, at the Annie M. Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, lived but nine hours. The body was taken to Littlestown and the funeral held Saturday afternoon by Rev. W. J. O'Callaghan, and interment was made in St. Aloysius' Cemetery, Littlestown.

Isaac W. Stevens, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Stevens, of Cumberland township, died suddenly at the home of his sister, Mrs. Mary Cashman, Cumberland township, along the Fairfield road about a mile and a half from Gettysburg, Sunday morning aged 62 years, 1 month and 24 days. Mr. Stevens was born and lived all his life in Adams county, most of it in Cumberland township. For the past twenty years he resided with his sister, Mrs. Mary Cashman. Mr. Stevens was in good health when he arose Christmas morning and was just ready to eat breakfast when he sank to the floor. His niece, Miss Clara Cashman, caught him and placed him in a chair but he expired almost immediately. Mr. Stevens' wife died about thirty years ago and he is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Mary Cashman, Mrs. David Hoffman, of Cumberland township; Miss Sara Stevens, Mrs. John Wright, and Mrs. William Henry, of Gettysburg; J. Henry Stevens, and John F. Stevens, of Cumberland township. Funeral services on Tuesday by Rev. J. B. Baker with interment in Evergreen Cemetery.

Heber Ashland Brenizer's death on Thursday last at 5 P. M., was a shock to the community in which he lived. He had been a sufferer for nearly a year. Having been operated upon for gravel stones at the Harrisburg Hospital on last January and was treated at the Gettysburg hospital during the summer. Mr. Brenizer was an honest, conscientious Christian man and highly respected in the community in which he lived always ready to lend a helping hand. He was born near Heidelsburg and lived at Aspers, Jacks Mountain, and for the last three years upon the farm of James Musselman at Fairfield Station. He was twice married, his first wife was Miss Annie Eichelberger, who died six or seven years ago and his second wife was Miss Fannie Snyder, by whom he is survived. He is also survived by his aged mother, Mrs. Sarah Brenizer, of Heidelsburg, and the following children: Alexander Brenizer, of Hamilton, Ohio; Paul Brenizer, of Fort Bliss, El Paso, Tex.; Walter Brenizer, of near Aspers; Mrs. N. Z. Reinecker, of Aspers; Mrs. Frank Donaldson, of Orrtanna; Mrs. Geo. Currans, Ralph, Hope, and Esther, at home. He is also survived by the following brothers and sisters: Edgar Brenizer, of Heidelsburg; Robert Brenizer, of Sterling, Kan.; John Brenizer, of Dillsburg; Mrs. Amos L. Minter, of Biglerville; Mrs. Chas. Tate, of Mt. Holly; and Mrs. Mervin Slaybaugh, of Heidelsburg. Mr. Brenizer was aged 51 years, 7 months and 14 days. Funeral services were conducted at his home on Monday the 26th, at 10:30 A. M., by Rev. Ralph Baker, of the Fairfield Lutheran Church, after which interment was made in the Fairfield Union Cemetery. The funeral was largely attended for he had a host of friends. The pall-bearers were: Joseph Musselman, Prof. C. A. Landis, James Musselman, Elmer Bennet, Harry Sanders and John M. Musselman. W.H.

SATISFIED WITH THE TEST

After Somewhat Belated Proof of the Purity of the Liqueur, Brothers
Slept in Peace.

"Testing" corn liquor is one of the most frequent preliminaries to conviviality these days. It is rumored, alleged, indicated and otherwise noised abroad. Lightning that burns with a white flame is supposed to be dangerous, to contain wood alcohol, and to otherwise be undesirable; shine that burns blue is supposed to be the honest effort of a master-maker of spirits. Sometimes, however, zeal for drink overcomes caution, even of this uncertain sort, with the result that the following occurred a few nights ago.

Two young brothers in mild iniquity secured themselves a pint. They, being fairly law-abiding in other respects, went to their room to drink it. They drank it, at least, most of it, and became somewhat affected by its presence with them. They undressed, turned out the light and retired. After about 20 minutes, one aroused himself and called to the other.

"Say, wake up, we didn't test that liquor!"

"Well, must do it," was the drowsy reply, "won't do drink it 'thout testin' it."

They arose, turned on the light, found the drop or two of liquor left in the flask, poured it on a hand-mirror, touched a match to it with due solemnity and care, saw the blue flame and returned to their beds absolutely satisfied.—Atlanta Constitution.

HE GOT THE "BUG LETTER"

Discovery That Made the Victim
Madder Than Before He Sent in Original "Kick."

There is probably no easier way to get a laugh out of an average American audience than to mention an Englishman's sense of humor, and to read what an American may have to say about the British humor may be exasperating to an Englishman, but the reverse is not always true. An Englishman, J. C. Squire, for instance, may write about American jokes and not be the least bit irritating. In his "Life and Letters" Mr. Squire's chapter, "Goats and Humour," contains several fine American jokes, and among them is one that concerns a traveler on a sleeping car who had written a complaint to headquarters about the presence of vermin in his berth.

"He received back from the administrative head a letter of immense effusiveness. Never before had such a complaint been lodged against this scrupulously careful line, and the management would have suffered any loss rather than cause annoyance to so distinguished a citizen as, etc., etc. He was very delighted with this abject apology. But as he was throwing away the envelope there fell out a slip of paper which had, apparently, been inclosed by mistake. On it was a memorandum: 'Send this guy the bug letter.'"

Relic of Glacial Age.
Devil's Pulpit, located about two miles east of Batavia, N. Y., is a relic of the glacial age. It is a huge mass of rock shaped like an hour glass, and is one of the most peculiar and striking natural formations in the whole state. The base is fully 30 feet across. It slopes upward to a narrow rock, corresponding to the neck through which the sands of an hour glass sift, and then broadens out to form what looks like the upper chamber of the glass. It is composed of limestone and stands 20 feet in height. The nearest bedrock like it is five miles away to the north, and geologists believe this means that the rock was torn loose from its original mother vein and dragged those five miles by the big glacier that swept down from the polar regions ages ago. Natural erosion did the carving that gives it the hour-glass contour.

New Timekeeper Clock.
Boiling eggs, developing photographs, or any other operation that requires short but accurate account of time, may be allowed to proceed without attention through the use of a novel clock, described in Popular Mechanics. The four-inch dial is at the top, and in the lower part of the case is a vertical scale, reading up to 90 minutes in one-minute divisions, and carrying a small slide that is set by hand. At the end of the period set, a four-luch gong on the back rings until it is shut off. Though a valuable addition to the home kitchen, the new time-keeping clock is intended especially as a labor-saving accessory for hotel and restaurant kitchens, photo galleries, laboratories and other places where the measurement of minutes is needed.

Snapping Movie Picture.
Usually 150,000 to 200,000 feet are run through the cameras to get a six-reel, or 6,000-foot motion picture. The director stations three, four or five cameras to take the same scene. He has one camera close beside the struggling villain and hero, another grinding from an elevation, still another at this angle, one more at that angle. When all of these negatives are developed, parts of each enter into the composition of the completed reel.

Impossible.

The Old Folks'
Christmas
by Christopher
Grant
Hazard

THE Old Folks decided that it was time for them to be young again. So they set up a Christmas tree in a corner of the big dining room.

Santa Claus came bustling in and began to make things pleasant. Tied to his belt there was an alarm clock. Its bell was ringing like everything. This was to wake the Old Folks up.

First, he called the roll, to see if they were all up and awake. Then, he began to pick the presents off the tree.

Soon the room was gay with dolls, horns and jumping jacks.

A doll was riding in her carriage, squeaking and rising up every few feet as she rode along.

There was a talking doll, too. She sang and talked when they pushed the buttons on her dress.

There were hot dolls for cold nights and cups and balls for the Old Folks to play with when they could not sleep.

The Old Folks all played with their presents. They blew on their horns, and amused themselves with the jumping-jacks, and sent the moving toys running about the room all at once.

But, after all, the Old Folks thought it wasn't so very much fun because there were no real children there. So they sent out to see if they could find some.

They found Lucy, Peter, Billy, Mary, Sally, Hilda, Ruth, and some other children, who all came to see the Old Folks' Christmas tree.

Lucy told the Old Folks the story about her dog Trump.

Trump was a tramp dog, but he could do some tricks. He loved to be dressed up in a blanket, with a belt. Then, with a beribboned straw hat on his head, he would walk across the room upon his hind legs.

After Lucy came Peter.

Peter said that he did not know any stories, but once he carried the flag for the big boys' baseball team, and they let him go in to see the baseball game, free.

Then Billy told a story.

He said that once he sat up all night, waiting for Santa Claus to come and fill his stocking. That is, he tried to sit up all night; but Santa Claus didn't come and so he fell asleep in the dark. The next day the doctor came to see him. The doctor told him he had had "stockingitis."

Billy said, too, that when he woke up in the early morning and found that Santa Claus had forgotten to fill his stocking, he was going to throw himself on the floor and pound his heels on it and holler. But then he happened to remember how ugly his brother Harry looked when he did that. So Billy thought he wouldn't, and he didn't.

Mary told about the songs she sang to her doll.

She said that the song that her doll liked the best was:

The little dog went to the market town,
With one foot up, and one foot down;
But when he came to a muddy place
He jumped cle-e-e-a-n over!

Mary said that she always jumped her doll at the "jump" part.

Sally thought that it was a long time since she had known a story. "most as long as the night before Christmas," but she did remember a ride she once had on a little donkey.

She said they had to send the old donkey on ahead to make the little donkey hurry.

Then she remembered about the cats at her grandma's house. There was a big cat for the big mice, and a little cat for the little mice.

Hilda told a story about a little blind boy she once saw.

When she said her evening prayer that night, her mother said to her:

"What are you going to say, in your prayer tonight, about that poor little blind boy you saw to-day?"

So Hilda asked God about him. The very next day she took the little blind boy a big orange.

It was now Ruth's turn. "Once I asked a little girl if that was her sister," said Ruth. "The little girl said: 'It ain't a sister. It's a baby.'"

One of the other boys now had a story to tell.

"Once I saw a cyclone come around the corner of a street," he said. "A man had a tent there with a lot of dolls in it. The man wanted to sell the dolls, but the cyclone took the tent right up into the sky, with all the dolls in it."

"Another man asked him: 'What are you making such a fuss about? Weren't your dolls for sale?' and everybody laughed except the doll man."

The Old Folks were having such a good time listening to the stories that they thought the children ought to have a good time, too. So they took all their presents that had come off the tree and gave them to the little folks who had come in.

Every boy and every girl had a toy and a box of candy—Lucy, Peter, Billy, Mary, Sally, Hilda, and the others.

Then, all the young Old Folks and all the children marched around the dining room singing.

They sang "Merry, Merry Christmas," and so the fun ended.

But I guess it didn't quite end then, either. For, as the young Young

Every Boy and Every Girl Had a Toy.

Folks went out of the door and down the street, the young Old Folks could hear them laughing, long after they turned the corner.

Besides, the young Old Folks have been talking about their "Old Folks' Christmas" ever since.

FESTIVITIES OF OLD TIMES

Lord of Misrule Was Important Functionary at Yuletide Celebrations of the Long Ago.

THE Lord of Misrule was an important functionary at the Christmas festivities of those long-ago times. An account of this important personage has been preserved by the historian and antiquary, John Stow, who lived during the reign of Queen Elizabeth and during the first year of the reign of King Charles I, and was, therefore, a contemporary of Shakespeare.

"In the feast of Christmas," writes Stow, "there was in the king's house, wherever he lodged, a Lord of Misrule or Master of Merry Sports, and the like had ye in the house of every nobleman of honor or good worship, were he spiritual or temporal. The mayor of London, and either of the sheriffs, had their several Lords of Misrule."

At Cambridge university the Lord of Misrule was a master of art, elected to superintend the representation of Latin plays by the students, besides taking charge of their games and diversions during the Christmas season. A similar Master of Revels was chosen at Oxford.

In the Inns of Courts in London, where the barristers had their offices and belongings, a Lord of Misrule reigned with great splendor, "being surrounded with all the parade and ceremony of royalty, his guard of honor, and even his two chaplains who preached before him in the Temple church."

On the Twelfth day he abdicated his sovereignty, and we are informed that in the year 1635, this mock-representative of royalty expended in the exercise of his office about two thousand pounds from his own purse, and at the conclusion of his reign was knighted by King Charles I at White-hall.

Saving the Leftovers.

Instead of always frying up any leftover potatoes, why not use them for hot tea scones? They only take a few minutes to make. To half a pound of cold potatoes add two ounces of flour and a teaspoonful each of salt and baking powder. Knead them all together, then add just enough milk—sour milk if you like—to make a stiff dough. Roll out and cut into either squares or rounds with a pastry cutter or tumbler and bake on a tin in a quick oven.

To Sweeten Musty Teapot.

To sweeten a metal or enamel teapot which has become musty, fill it with boiling water and drop in a red-hot cinder, close the lid and leave for a short time. Then rinse out with clean water.

Canada's Auto Industry.

A preliminary survey of the automobile industry for the calendar year of 1919 has been completed by the Dominion bureau of statistics. Three different sections cover automobiles, accessories and repairs, respectively. The capital invested in the industry totals $57,000,000, of which Ontario accounts for more than $48,000,000, with a total of 640 out of the 1,236 plants throughout the Dominion. The total number of employees is 13,364, with a payroll of over $15,000,000. In 1919 there were 61,257 touring cars manufactured in Canada, with a value of over $32,000,000. Trucks numbered 7,527, with an aggregate value of $4,850,000.

RENEWED TESTIMONY.

No one in Gettysburg who suffers backache, headaches or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this Gettysburg woman's twice-told story. It is confirmed testimony that no Gettysburg resident can doubt.

Mrs. D. F. Arendt, R. R. St., gave the following statement February 14, 1916: "Doan's Kidney Pills have always given me the most excellent results. I was suffering from backache and dizzy headaches and my kidneys were much too free in action. I felt all worn out in the morning. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I purchased some at the People's Drug Store and they gave me relief at once and have always given me such fine benefit that I keep them on hand to use in case of need."

On April 11, 1921, Mrs. Arendt said: "I don't have any kidney trouble at all any more and I attribute my cure to Doan's Kidney Pills. I think even more highly of Doan's than I did in 1916, because the cure they brought about has been a lasting one."
